

July Topics

Recent Macintosh Noteworthy RSS News

Enjoy films, webcasts, and podcasts from the Library of Congress

The largest library in the world, the Library of Congress has “millions of books, recordings, photographs, maps, and manuscripts in its collection.” And now you can enjoy part of that vast collection on iTunes U. (Link under iTunes STORE) Watch early films from Thomas Edison and Westinghouse. Hear the oral histories of African Americans who served as slaves. Enjoy lectures from researchers exploring the links between music and the brain. All free.

Mac OS X Tip: Changing the application used to open files

You receive a Word document from a friend. And while you have Office for Mac on your MacBook, you’d rather open that document in Pages. Thanks to Mac OS X Leopard, you have a number of ways — right-clicking on the document, Get Info, and others — to temporarily change the application used to open it.

Apple Shortcut Tips

Command Tab - activates menu and switches through the order last accessed. The most current will be on the left.

Command Shift Tab reverses the order.

Command . period or command escape cancels.

Selecting Q will quit the highlighted application.

Drag and drop text into a new application

You could use Expose to select open apps if set up.

NEW PRODUCTS

Stationary Pack

Adds 111 high-quality stationery templates to Mail in Mac OSX Leopard. Enhance your e-mails according to your own preferences! Send holiday greetings, invitations, congratulations and much more. Surprise your family and friends, they will wonder how you did it! Only on a Mac.

$31.97

Chill Pill Mobil Speakers

With big sound and a rugged, compact case, the Chill Pill will become an essential part of your digital traveling kit. The Chill Pill also looks and sounds great attached to a laptop or desktop computer. Rechargeable lithium ion battery provides six hours of playing time. Can be charged from a computers USB port.

$39.95