News from the Apple WWDC

Apple announced that snow leopard will be released in September and includes many system performance additions. Version 10.6 will not work on any of the G series computers as expected. All computers purchased after June 8 will get the update for $9.95. All other users upgrading from Leopard 10.5.x will upgrade for 29.95. This is much lower than previous system upgrades at 129.00. Apple has expanded the functionality as noted in this article regarding mobile me. The OS 3.0 software update will also be available for the Touch.

Apple Announces New MacBook Pro, Air, MobileMe features, and iPhone 3G S at WWDC 2009

MacBook Air features faster Intel Core 2 Duo processors along with powerful nVidia GeForce graphics, all in the same thin, environmentally friendly design

The MacBook Pro family now comes in three sizes with 13-, 15-, and 17-inch models. Each features a thin and light aluminum unibody design, built-in battery, an LED-backlit display, FireWire 800 across the line-up and a new SD card slot in the 13- and 15-inch models.

MobileMe new features include Find My iPhone, which gives you the ability to easily locate your lost iPhone or remotely erase the data on it to protect your privacy--available with iPhone OS 3.0. iDisk app is a free download, coming soon to the App Store, that allows MobileMe members to view and share files stored on their iDisk from any iPhone or iPod touch.

iPhone 3G S features improved speed and performance with longer battery life, a high-quality 3 megapixel autofocus camera, easy to use video recording and hands-free voice control.
